“Learning to listen in the 21st century” is the message of Bharat Jodo Yatra

PATNA:CONGRESS DARPAN

At the university of Cambridge the Congress leader Rahul Gandhi delivered a lecture on Tuesday. He spoke at the university's Judge Business School on the topic "Learning to Listen in 21st century." Very philosophically he talked about the "art of listening." According to Mr. Gandhi if the listening is powerful then the awareness would be automatically powerful. Because if the public listen only then they can ask questions. And in democracy it is right to every person to ask questions to the government after all its public selection that who would be the leader.

The tag line "Learning to listen in the 21st century" is the message of Bharat Jodo Yatra. Discussing "The Bharat Jodo Yatra" Mr. Gandhi said that this is a journey or a pilgrimage in which people shut themselves down so then they can listen others.

P Chidambaram tweeted—

"Rahul Gandhi delivered a lecture at Cambridge Judge Business College as a visiting fellow.

Learning to listen in 21st century the big message from Bharat jodo Yatra."

Mr. Gandhi was introduced to the Cambridge MBA students by Kamal Munir, pro vice chancellor at the Cambridge university and the professor of Strategy and Policy at Cambridge Judge Business School.

Sarojini Naidu, the poet, politician, freedom fighter, feminist, and known as the Nightingale of India is the epitome of spirit and greatness

PATNA: CONGRESS DARPAN

Sarojini Naidu, the poet, politician, freedom fighter, feminist, and known as the Nightingale of India is the epitome of spirit and greatness. Today on 2nd of March the Indian National Congress is commemorating her death anniversary because this is the day when this great and versatile personality took her last breath. She is the first woman to be the president of Indian National Congress and the position shows that how rich the root and the history of Indian National Congress are. Sarojini Naidu, the follower of Mahatma Gandhi took part in the national movement and fought for the freedom of our dearest motherland India. She played a vital role in the salt satyagraha known as dandi march.

If we talk about her writings then none can be compared with her. Educated in Madras and later in London in the Cambridge University illustrates her craving for education and self dependency. Her literary works like The golden threshold, Palanquin bearers, The Indian weavers etc. overtly show her deep consciousness towards society, love, country and the countrymen.

We all perceive that if there Sarojini Naidu would not had been then Indian National Congress could not be such a glorious and enormous political party. Today on the death anniversary of this great personality we pray to this greatest woman to shower her blessings on us and guide her remainder Congress children on the path of good will so that the congress can fight for the betterment of India.

Congress president Mallikarjun

Kharge paid the respectful tribute to the Former Congress president Sarojini Naidu with the nice words and remembered her by saying

"Sarojini Naidu inspires millions through her eloquent poetry and active participation in the national movement."

In fact, this great personality is the idol of inspiration and adoration. And India is proud to have such a versatile daughter, woman, fighter and writer.

The particular protest was the gift from the BJP government

PATNA: CONGRESS DARPAN

Let's have a look on farmer protest. The particular protest was the gift from the BJP government. The farm bill was embedded by the government in 2020 came to the public in the disguise form of an angel but inside the robe it was a demon. As soon as the public guessed the implications behind the law they started protesting. The unions began protests from Punjab and very soon it moved to Haryana then came the slogan "dilli chalo". When thousands of people marched towards Delhi the nation capital, the government in order to stop them ordered the police to use forces on them.

The Indian National Congress which has always been the supporter of farmers came in the arena and forwarded its hand towards the farmers. Congress leader Rahul Gandhi himself always stood with the farmers and said,

"No government in the world can stop farmers fighting the battle of truth. The Modi government will have to agree to their demands and take back the black laws."

The public should not forget the losses of lives and security during the farm bills protest and they ought to consider about the improvement that the time needs, the country needs and the public needs.

the wrong policies and dictatorial attitude of the central government

PATNA: CONGRESS DARPAN

Inflation has reached its peak due to the wrong policies and dictatorial attitude of the central government, at present the Modi government has made the common people in such a condition that it is less to be ignored, it has broken the back of the poor people, a little bit after the corona epidemic. The common man, the poor people were trying to breathe that, again the price of cylinder was increased by ₹ 50 and the price of commercial cylinder was increased by 350. What does the government want to celebrate Holi, a unique gift for the Hindu brothers. .

Under the poor thinking of the BJP government, in the process of destroying Abdul's house, the houses of the people of the whole country are being destroyed and all this is being done by the BJP leaders by making them Hindu—Muslim. Only and only in the name of Hindutva, the society is engaged in hurting people of all religions and castes, the society will never forgive them for their numerous acts. Inflation increases more than the price of crops of farmers in rural areas does not increase. Because of which their children do not get good education and health facilities. That's why there is no improvement in their standard of living. Due to inflation, the poor get rid of their children's education at an early age. We employ them with us or send them to Mumbai Delhi, so that they can help with household expenses.

When the prices of gas increase, when the prices of diesel and petrol increase. So its effect directly falls on the poor and the farmers. Being uneducated, the poor have to pay bribe if they want to take loan from the bank. If there is any government work, bribe has to be given. A charge has to be paid even after withdrawing money from CSC Banking. While it is free. Corruption also increases inflation.
