Indian National Congress which started the protection domain for the animals and the plants

PATNA: CONGRESS DARPAN

Today, on 3rd of March, we are celebrating the World Wildlife Day. The wild life protection act was passed in 1972 in India by the then government. This is an act of the parliament of India enacted for the protection of plants and animals. It was the Indian National Congress which started the protection domain for the animals and the plants. Before 1972, India had its designated national parks only five in numbers.

In order to balance the environmental and ecological security, the act provides the preservation and protection of the wild animals, plants, birds of the country. The act also restricts hunting and poaching of the innocent beauty of the Indian forests. Here the question arises, what is the need to protect the wildlife animals and plants? From diabolical to the meek viz. from the tiger to the lamb, from peacock to the bee, every animal, plant and bird contribute to the nature in different ways that the human beings cannot imagine. In other words, they don't want to understand. To make the environment and ecosystem balanced, for the shake of human beings benefits, the Indian National Congress instituted the act of wildlife protection and the project tiger. And today, the Indian National Congress is celebrating the day and showing its gratitude towards the Indian wildlife and in addition sending a message to the society like a harbinger to contribute in the protection of these priceless beauty of the land.

Mr. Gandhi influenced the students of Judge Business School and make them realized that how the responsibility should be taken

PATNA:CONGRESS DARPAN

At the Cambridge university, the congress leader talked on many topics like democracy, Kashmir a place of full of violence, U.S. & China, Bharat jodo yatra etc.

Mr. Gandhi in his lecture shared his experiences of his yatra days. He spoke about the reality of the country, and the real problems of the public. He imparted that how a man tried to stop him touching a poor boy by saying that he is dirtier and this particular term hurt him most. The young man told the person that a person is not dirtier by his dirty clothes or tangled hair but by the thoughts.

Further, he talks about his entering in Kashmir with his public and explained that how the guards stopped him entering in Kashmir by saying that it could be dangerous for him and for the people following his too. But his people are those who always stand with him and in such a sensitive place the public didn't leave the hands of each other and followed his leader. The tricolored Kashmir was worth looking Mr. Rahul Gandhi said.

He also discussed the topic "learning to listen in 21st century". And persuaded the students that listening is a big power itself. As per Mr. Gandhi, a good listening makes the person conscious regarding the society and the country.

By his lecture, Mr. Gandhi influenced the students of Judge Business School and make them realized that how the responsibility should be taken.

Prasanth Madal, the son of BJP MLA Madal Virupakshappa caught red handed taking 40 lakh rupees as bribe.

PATNA: CONGRESS DARPAN

Prasanth Madal, the son of BJP MLA Madal Virupakshappa caught red handed taking 40 lakh rupees as bribe. As a result, the Karnataka MLA resigned as KSLD chairman. And the cash of 6 crores rupees was also recovered from his house in the raid. The Lokayukta police had got information and deployed its officers near the KSDL office.

After the canto, a cyclone emerged in the state Karnataka. This act is putting question mark on the Modi Government. The public with their wide open eyes are asking that where is the honesty and piou-ness in the BJP party. This scenario has put the seeds of the black reality in the mind of public. The party is in anger putting allegations on the congress for the pres-ent state. But the truth cannot be concealed at any cost because it has its own power to sparkle.
